To: ART majors and ART graduate students
From: Scholarship Committee
Subject: Anderson Ranch Scholarship Partnership program

The Department of Art and Art History at The University of Alabama invites applications from art students in ceramics and sculpture to participate in the Anderson Ranch Scholarship Partnership Program. Two scholarships are being offered which cover tuition costs for one of Anderson Ranch’s summer ceramics or sculpture workshops. In addition, support of $500 to assist with housing and fees will be provided by the department. The awardee is responsible for covering travel to and from Snowmass Village, CO as well as approximately $300 of the program fees. Applications will be accepted from art majors and graduate students with concentrations in ceramics or sculpture. Anderson Ranch is an internationally recognized art center that offers workshops, an artist residency program, and exhibitions. For more information, visit www.andersonranch.org.
